EXAMPLE FOR TONOPAH

ELY is a model city which the people of Tonopah are beginning to understand as one of the brightest and most progressive towns in the west. It was not long ago that Ely surprised visitors with an entertainment that surpassed anything of the kind attempted in Nevada. There was not a flaw or hitch in the entire proceedings and the programme went off with all the harmony of the proverbial marriage bell. Had the hosts taken stock of their visitors they would have given them even a greater surprise by demonstrating how a model municipality can be run in a mining community without driving taxpayers to despair and compelling merchants to close their doors rather than pay exorbitant and excessive taxes. The biggest surprise that could have been sprung on Tonopah would be a glimpse of the city auditor's books, showing what Ely had accomplished in the course of the past twelve months. A glance would have disclosed that during the year the town of Ely had paid off $6700 in outstanding warrants and is prepared to meet a payment of $5000 on a sewer system established with the aid of a bond issue. The $6700 in outstanding warrants included a balance of $3000 on a new auto fire truck similar to the one bought for Tonopah and which the commissioners of Nye county could not finance without paying spot cash. It never occurred to the Tonopah town trustees that there was any other way of tiding over an emergency, so they just slapped on the full cost of the new equipment in exactly the same manner that they provided for paying the cost of the new high pressure, i. e.: by paying all at once instead of distributing the charge over five or ten years through a bond issue. The city bonded indebtedness of Ely is now $35,000, and after the payment of the $500 next September no more payments on principal are to be made until October 1, 1918, when $10,000 of the first issue of $40,000 in sewer and general improvement bonds becomes due.

The city tax rate this year is $1.25, which is the same as last year, but, should no unforeseen expenditure arise, the rate next year will undoubtedly be materially reduced.

Compare this with the burdens that stagger Tonopah. Think of the difference and dwell on the possibility and the rejoicing that would follow the reduction of the town tax to $1.25. Yet Ely taxpayers do not think their trustees are doing more than what any ordinary business men would do in handling their own affairs. The taxpayers are contented and satisfied, for they not only have the satisfaction of procuring the latest municipal improvements but they know that these improvements are not going to be taxed against them the year they are installed.

Tonopah has neither a sewer, water or any other kind of civic utility owned by the town to show for the years of wastefulness controlled by the coterie at the courthouse. All they can show for their money is a nice fat stack of tax receipts. Who is responsible?

INDUSTRIAL EFFECTS OF WAR

NATURALLY the first thought of a business man in discussing probabilities of war is the consequences to follow in the train of hostilities at home. First in importance is the influence of war on the production and price of silver. Next is the ability of the war babies to maintain their high values in view of the fact that their establishments may be commandeered by the government and the millions of revenue derived from supplying munitions to foreign governments be diverted to the development of man killing material for home consumption. From present indications there is no encouragement for any sudden accession of silver from the other side of the border, which will remain in a disturbed condition for many months after American troops cross the Rio Grande. Sniping and guerrilla warfare will militate against any resumption of mining and therefore no great increase can be expected from that quarter to swell the visible supply. The invasion of a silver country will call for the coinage of more silver specie to pay off the half million or more soldiers employed in the campaign. This means the disbursement of $10,000,000 a month, the bulk of which will go out in silver, as that is the only metal the inhabitants of Mexico are familiar with. It is the foundation of all their transactions, as the peon and laboring classes know nothing good of paper money, which looks all alike to them whether it bears the signature of the Register of the U. S. treasury or the John Hancock of any of the revolutionary generals whose autograph on currency stands for a value of about three cents on the dollar. This means that silver will become the chief medium of circulation, stimulating the demand for bullion and naturally forcing the price back to something like its old value in 1890. Industrials are likely to languish through cutting off the foreign demand and investors will be brought to a realization of the fact that silver stocks are the most promising securities offered in the open market.

BIRDS OF A FEATHER

WHEN the business men of America were trying to prevent the enactment of the ruinous Democratic tariff law, President Wilson denounced them as an "insidious lobby" and held them up to public condemnation. Recently the railroad managers, in an entirely open and public manner, made protest against legislation which would make them subject to the whims and prejudices of the Postmaster General in all matters relating to the carrying of the mail. They wanted to be governed by law and not by the ipse dixit of the Postmaster General. So some one in the department sent out a circular letter to the postmasters directing them to communicate with their senators and congressmen urging them to defeat the "railroad lobby." Yet President Wilson pretends, in his public utterances, to desire the co-operation of business men. What he really wants is their co-operation in securing his re-election, and after that they can go hang—or go bankrupt, as many of them did after the enactment of the tariff law.

Wilson prepared for war with Mexico by looking out for the Almighty Dollar and the trusts that are making money at the expense of the people. Food supplies are being rushed across the border. To a man up a tree and not obsessed with diplomacy it would seem about time to place an embargo on such stuff. Think of the monstrous conduct of a government supplying an enemy with ammunition to shoot down its own soldiers.

During the nine months ending March, 1916, we exported $90,000,000 worth of automobiles and parts—$10,000,000 worth a month. All but a small fraction of this value were consigned to the warring powers. Just think of the effect of this monthly ten million dollars sifting through the arteries of our trade. This is a sample of the war order prosperity of which the Democrats make political capital.

Winnemucca is going to greet delegates to the I. O. O. F. convention with streets swept as clean of rubbish and as bright as your old mother's cupboard. Hope none of the Tonopah delegates drop dead from heart shock.

Strange you never hear of a Mexican being killed while bathing.

SWISS IMPORTS TIED UP AT SEAPORTS OF FRANCE

(By Associated Press.)
BERNE, Switzerland, June 21.—Swiss imports from America are meeting great difficulties. There are 2460 carloads of American corn and oats billed to Switzerland, awaiting forwarding at Marseilles; also 3690 cars of American wheat at Bordeaux and 800 cars of American sugar at Certe. Lack of adequate rolling stock is the chief cause of delay.

Give a man a good dinner and it takes the edge off his criticism.
